about T.W. Coggs

AEA honors T.W. Coggs for his contributions to education in the form of a grant funded by the ATA Endowment Fund. Coggs served as both President and Executive Secretary of the Arkansas Teachers Association, the African-American teacher association which merged with AEA in 1969. He emphasized the need for professional training and higher standards, and led the association through the turbulence of school desegregation.

about the ATA Endowment Program

Funding for the scholarship is provided by the ATA Endowment Program as a living memorial to the Arkansas Teachers Association, which merged with AEA in 1969. The endowment also provides for the T.E. Patterson Memorial Scholarship.

ATA was organized to secure equality of educational opportunities for every child and equality of professional status for every teacher in Arkansas. The Endowment provides motivation and development of opportunities for young people of African-American descent to enter the teaching profession, as well as advance the placement of qualified African-American educators in schools throughout Arkansas.

Following the merger of the Arkansas Education Association and Arkansas Teachers Association, the ATA Building was sold in July 1970. The net proceeds from the sale were invested, and the interest is used to finance this program.

The ATA Endowment Program is administered by a committee with a staggered membership to serve as a policy-making group for setting up and implementing the endowment program. The AEA Board shall set the criteria for persons serving on the Endowment Committee, and they shall be appointed by the AEA President, subject to the approval of the Board.
